

Jihad Vs Mcworld: How Globalism and Tribalism are RE Shaping the World

By Barber

Random House USA Inc, United States, 1996. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Reprint. 212 x 136 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. Jihad vs. McWorld is an analysis of the fundamental conflict of our times: consumerist capitalism versus religious and tribal fundamentalism. Jihad vs. McWorld offers a lens through which to understand the chaotic events of the post-Cold War world. Benjamin R. Barber argues that if you look only at the business section of the daily newspaper, you would be convinced that the world was increasingly united, that borders were increasingly porous, that corporate mergers were steadily knitting the globe into a single international market. But if you focus only on the front page, you would be convinced of just the opposite: that the world was increasingly riven by fratricide, civil war, and the breakup of nations. Barber provides a single map that unites these two sides of the same coin, and convincingly demonstrates that what capitalism and fundamentalism have in common is a distaste for democracy. For both, in different ways, lay siege to the nation-state itself - heretofore the only guarantor of conditions that have permitted democracy to flourish. Democracy, Barber suggests, may well fall victim to a...

READ ONLINE
[4.72 MB]

Reviews

Unquestionably, this is the best work by any author. Better than never, though i am quite late in start reading this one. I realized this publication from my dad and i advised this pdf to find out.

-- Nelson Zemlak

This composed publication is fantastic. This is certainly for all those who statte that there was not a well worth reading through. You will not truly feel monotony at whenever you want of your respective time (that's what catalogs are for regarding when you ask me).

-- Prof. Mark Ratke Jr.